Yes

I just feel God is saying do not be discouraged, do not live in defeat for the day is coming when the whole earth will be filled with His glory. The day is soon coming when praises will fill the earth, when glorifying of His name will be the norm, when the exaltation to the King of kings and Lord of lords will increase.

There will be just such a wonderful, majestic lifting of voices and hands to the Lord, to the King, across the nations of the earth, throughout the land in which you live. There is coming a momentous day when the Spirit of the Lord will release His glory, when the Spirit of the Lord will release praise and worship, when the Spirit of the Lord will release signs and wonders and miracles as people worship Him and glorify His name. When the whole purpose of their coming is to worship, to glorify, to magnify, to give honour unto the Living One, then the power of the supernatural will flow. There will be signs and wonders. There will be lightnings and thunders. There will be supernatural happenings from the heavens breaking in upon the earth as the multitudes worship and praise and sing psalms to their God because as the church raises its voice and it lifts its heart and hands, as it begins to exalt and glorify only Jesus then heaven will be released, the power of the almighty God will be set free supernaturally to be outpoured on the earth.

Do not be discouraged. In no way be distressed or disturbed because the Lord God is aware of all things and His purposes will be outworked, His plan will come to pass. The earth will be filled with His glory, the saints will praise and adore Him. The church, the multitudes and the masses will march down the mountainside of Jerusalem's Zion, worshipping their King, praising His name, waving their palm branches, throwing their clothes before Him, honouring Him with all their heart.

The power of the Almighty God will be released among you. Just keep on worshipping Him, others will catch up, join in, flow with, become a part of everything that your heart desires. The Lord longs for it more than you do. The Lord hungers for it more than you do. Heaven is filled with His praises and He longs for the day when the earth will be filled with His praises. Continue to be a people who by faith fill the earth with their praises for there will be multitudes that will join together right across the earth in the days that lie ahead.
